[Sign Shop]

Signs of the Times

Kudos to Tim Bond and his staff at the Pheasantland Industries Sign Shop who have recently completed several outstanding projects, many of which you might come across during your travels around the state. Tim has been in charge of the sign shop since 2014, and prior to making the move, he was a uniformed corrections officer at the South Dakota State Penitentiary.

With technology upgrades, our prices have remained level or even decreased over the last 8 years.*

Bill Allen has taken the reins of the Braille and Upholstery Shops from Josh Murray, who left Pheasantland for an opportunity to spend more time with his growing family and we wish Josh the best in all his future endeavors.

We did not have to look far to find a replacement. In Bill, we had someone who had demonstrated his abilities in various uniformed and staff positions, and whose skill set and personality will be a welcome addition to Pheasantland Industries.
