Get the Word Out! SUBLIMATION PRINTING IS NOW AVAILABLE

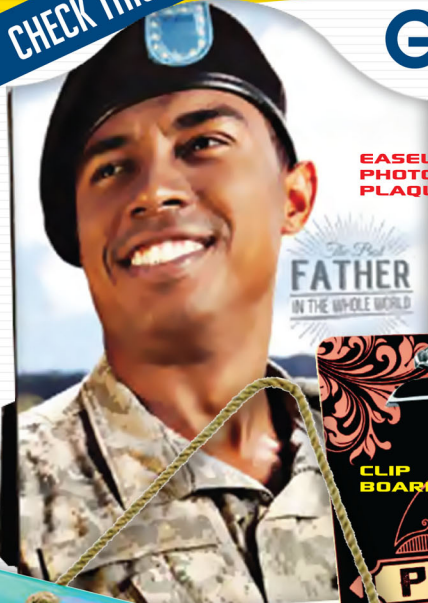

Pheasantland Industries has introduced the science of sublimation into its ever-expanding line of promotional products and now offers more options to get the word out, brighten your surroundings, or recognize a job well done.

Unlike conventional inks, sublimation inks are converted directly from a solid to a gas under heat and pressure, causing them to bond with the fibers of manmade (synthetic) materials. The molecules of ink revert to a solid state upon cooling, permanently coloring the surface of your material.

With literally thousands of products to choose from, Zaide's creative team at the Print Shop is more than capable of handling your promotional needs.
