Those of us who are entrusted with the responsibility of purchasing products for our departments know that we are in this business for the long haul. The wisdom of our purchases is not measured on the day we buy the product but rather on the day that it goes out of service.

Discount stores know how to sell products that are the cheapest on the day of the sale. The product just needs to look good and get you out the door. Usually at the check out counter you get hit up to buy an extended warranty. Why do you want to buy an insurance policy insuring against the product being junk? In the fine print it says if there is a problem, don't return it to the store, call this number. That number usually turns out to be off shore.

Pheasantland Industries' desks, chairs and cabinets may not be the cheapest product on the first day you own them, but they will be on the last day. We service what we sell and the warranties are free. If there is a problem, you call us and we fix it.

Remember our customer base is government agencies, non profit organizations and State Employees (not DOC)

The Machine Shop just finished a prototype for a live trap. It's the perfect answer if you have pesky animals around your institutional grounds that you would like to remove in a safe and humane way. All you need is someone brave enough to empty them! 12" X 12" X 36" Starting at $24.00

The Cabinet Shop recently completed the cross pictured below for a church here in Sioux Falls. It was a beautiful piece of work and a great demonstration of the versatility and quality of the shop.

New Charcoal Fleece blankets are designed for institutional use. Light weight yet warm. Washes easily and dries at lower temperatures to save fuel and electricity costs. 60" X 90" $10.50 each.
