

MIKE DURFEE STATE PRISON

SPRINGFIELD VOCATIONAL INDUSTRIES

The mission of the South Dakota Department of Corrections includes utilizing evidence based practices to maximize opportunities for offender's rehabilitation. Springfield Vocational Industries at the Mike Durfee State Prison uses "hands on" work projects, in conjunction with classroom training, to provide inmates with employment skills that will aid them with re-entry into the community workplace.

These work projects include products such as camping cabins, custom plaques made from wood, wooden benches, gazebos and aluminum picnic tables. These products are available for purchase by South Dakota State employees, non-profit entities and cities and counties within South Dakota.
